SENTENCE COMMUTED.

The State Board of Pardons at Boise, Idaho, yesterday commuted the sentence of Harry Orchard, who was under sentence to hang next Friday for the murder of former Governor Frank Steunenberg, to imprisonment for life.

Orchard was arrested two days after the assassination of former Governor Steunenberg at Caldwell, Idaho, December 30, 1905, and a few weeks later, while confined in the Idaho penitentiary, confessed his guilt to James McPartland, a well-known detective, at the same time asserting that he was employed to commit the crime by officers of the Western Federation of Miners.

As a result of his confession Charles H. Moyer, president, and William D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer, of the Western Federation of Miners, and Charles D. Pettibone were arrested in Denver and brought to Idaho to answer the charge of murder.

John Simpkins, another member of the federation, was also indicted, and is still a fugitive. Haywood and Pettibone were accepted after memorable trials, in which Orchard told a story of wholesale assassinations which shocked the world.

Following the trial of Pettibone the case against Moyer was dismissed.

Orchard, who was indicted separately, when arraigned at his confession, stood mute, and the court directed that a plea of not guilty be entered. His case was continued from term to term until April 10 of this year, when it was called at Caldwell, and he asked permission to change his plea. The court granted the request, and Orchard pleaded guilty to murder in the first degree.

In pronouncing the sentence of death, a week later, Judge Wood recommended that the Board of Pardons commute the sentence, saying he was firmly convinced that Orchard had told the whole and exact truth at the trials of Haywood and Pettibone, and that he was therefore, to "the service he had rendered the state, entitled to clemency."

The board, in taking this action, acted on the recommendation of Judge Fremont Wood, made at the time of sentencing Orchard.

Orchard to the last was opposed to having the sentence interfered with. He said to the attorney that he had effort to save him from the gallows would fail.

ANOTHER SEA SERPENT.

A dispatch from Galveston says, what is confidently believed to be a sea serpent has been sighted and narrowly inspected by the officers, crew and 15 passengers of the steamship Livingston of the Texas-Mexican Line. All of the witnesses made a sworn affidavit to this effect before United States Consul Agent Chas. W. Rickland at Frontera, Mexico.

The statement is signed by Capt. G. A. Olsen and the other officers and passengers of the steamer. In substance it declares that at three bells on the evening of June 24 the Livingston, bound from Galveston to Frontera, Mexico, making good weather, and about 50 miles north of Frontera, in the Gulf of Mexico, the serpent was sighted on the port bow. The ship got within 60 feet of the creature, and for 15 minutes stood by while all on board viewed the serpent through glasses. It was apparently sleeping and was not less than 200 feet long, of about the diameter of a four barrel in the center of the body but was not round. The head was about six feet long by three feet at the widest part.

The color was dark brown, and near its tail were rings or circles that appeared larger in circumference than the body at that point. As it swam away the tail was erect, and a rattling noise as loud as that made by a rattling gun in action startled the watchers on the Livingston.

ATTEMPTED MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Patrick Manning, formerly janitor of police headquarters in Bayonne, N. J., but of late a detective for the Jersey Central Railroad, shot his wife three times yesterday afternoon, and then ended his life with carbolic acid. The woman is in the hospital in a critical condition. The shooting was witnessed by their sons, Vincent, twelve years old, and Bernard, ten years old. Manning and his wife went to Manhattan Tuesday on a shopping trip, and on the way home quarreled. Mrs. Manning left home at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, but returned yesterday morning. When she got back the quarrel was renewed, and Manning left, saying he would kill his wife when he returned. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Manning was in her bedroom when her husband returned. He was armed with a .38-caliber revolver, and at once opened fire.
